

RESILIENCE ALLIANCE, INC. - PUBLISHING AGREEMENT

All authors (or their authorized agents) must warranty the work and grant Resilience Alliance permission to publish the manuscript before it can be published in Avian Conservation and Ecology.

The work: [Manuscript number; Authors]

Title: [Title]

Agreement to Publish: The author (or authorized agent) hereby grants to the publisher, Resilience Alliance, irrevocable royalty-free rights to publish, distribute, and archive the above-named work and all associated objects (tables, figures, appendices, and any other attachments) in any form of media, in all languages, worldwide. The author allows the publisher nonexclusive right to permit republication of the work or part of the work. The title of the work cannot be changed without mutual consent.

Author Warranty: The author (or authorized agent) warrants that he/she is owner of the work, that the entire work is original and not already published in any language in any media, and that the work does not infringe any existing copyright. If any copyrighted material or the work of others is included (even if it has been modified) the author hereby confirms that unrestricted permission for its reuse has been received from its owner. A copy of each permission should be given to the Resilience Alliance publishing office. The author also warrants that the work does not contain any libelous or other unlawful matter.

The author (or authorized agent) agrees to hold harmless and indemnify the publisher, its officers, directors, employees, and agents against any damage or expense sustained in any proceedings brought by reason of any violation of any proprietary right or copyright, or any unlawful matter contained in the work.

Copyright No transfer of copyright is required.

Therefore, authors (or their employers where required by law) retain copyright over the work. If the author(s) are employees of the government of the United States of America the work is not subject to U.S. copyright protection in the U.S. (but authors retain copyright in international jurisdictions). If the author(s) are employees of the British or British Commonwealth Governments copyright is retained by the Crown where required by law. Copyright holders have the right to reproduce and reuse the work or part of the work and to grant permission to third parties to reuse the work or part of the work in any medium as long as the journal is clearly acknowledged as the original source of the publication.
